Forecast for Friday 19 Aug 2022

Weather: Light rain with low cloud at first, but this clearing soon after midnight. Cloud breaking as the rain clears with clear spells developing. Then a largely dry day with sunny spells during the morning. Some fair weather cloud bubbling up during the morning, with some cloud near hilltops at first, but soon lifting above the tops.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 600m: 40% at first, becoming 70% by 0300 as rain clears, then becoming 100% by mid-late morning.

Low cloud and visibility: Low cloud at first down to 400-500m giving very poor visibility with nearby landmarks obscured, soon clearing. Patchy cloud with bases near the summits possible during the morning, lifting by mid-late morning. Moderate visibility with distant hills obscured in early rain. Otherwise visibility generally very good with distant hills clearly visible.
